UPDATE

The Monthly Guide for QuantumLink SM Members $1.00

- Rounding Turn Two… The Grandstand's 2nd Anniversary
- Keep Pace with Lifestyles in the 80s in Women Today

WORK WITH US ON A PROFESSIONAL LEVEL.

Some people really like working on their machines. And then there are some who prefer to do their tinkering under the hood. For those of you who can't wait to get your hands greasy, we proudly introduce geoProgrammer. The most sophisticated machine language programming tool on the market.

With geoProgrammer, you get the same kind of technology we use for developing our other products. Which means you can write supercharged software. Pump your own programs. And assemble just about any kind of application you can imagine.

It reads and writes and stomps on bugs.

The first three tools that any serious programmer needs are an assembler, a linker and a debugger. So we've installed all three, complete with sample GEOS applications that teach you the latest programming tricks in seconds.

geoAssembler not only reads directly from geoWrite files, but contains enough Pseudo Ops to allow all kinds of conditional assemblies. It has all the state-of-the-art features you'd expect, including some you probably never thought possible. For example, integrating graphics is as simple as cutting and pasting the image from geoPaint directly into your program.

geoLinker ties your program modules together, supporting GEOS SEQ and VLIR applications and desk accessories. You can even use geoAssembler and geoLinker to create non-GEOS applications.

*Also available for 80 col. C128's.

geoDebugger allows your program to be tested in memory with full symbolic disassembly, along with line assembly for patching code in memory. It also allows your code to be single-stepped or top-stepped, with sub-routines fully executed. It can stop a running program with one key, or use up to eight conditional breakpoints. When your program hits the breakpoint, it prominently displays the error in an overlay window, leaving the applications screen intact.

Pro enough for you yet? Well, that's only a partial list of what you're in for.

If you understood all that, read on.

Chances are that we lost a lot of readers by now. But if you're still with us, hang in there. You have the makings of a real GEOS pro. All you need now are the right tools.

And all of them come in this one handy box.

So if you're serious about programming, consider geoProgrammer. After all, you've got nothing to lose—except your amateur status.

To order geoProgrammer online, go to the Commodore Software Showcase and select "GEOS Arena."

THE GRANDSTAND

Second Anniversary

Challenge Yourself and Your Friends at The Grandstand's Second Anniversary Decathlon

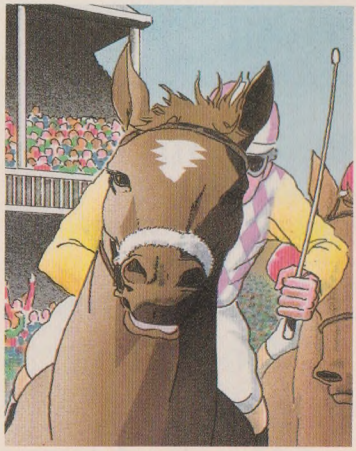
Sports fans: Looking to beat the summertime heat? It's "no sweat" to test your speed and endurance in The Grandstand Sports Club's Second Anniversary Decathlon!

In the Grandstand, located in Just for Fun's Sports Center, you can follow the action on all your favorite sports, meet fellow sports enthusiasts, buy, sell, and trade baseball cards — even try your hand at managing your own team!

The Grandstand's congenial host, "The Ref " (Ken Schoenberg), celebrates the anniversary with the Second Anniversary Decathlon beginning July 1. These two months (July and August) of exciting events will offer you the chance to show off your sports knowledge, meet new friends, and win outstanding prizes.

The most grueling event of the 10-game series is bound to be the popular "Stump the Grandstand." "The Ref" dares you to challenge him and his staff with your most obscure sports trivia questions. If you think you've got what it takes to stump "The Ref's" team of experts, join them for "Stump the Grandstand" on August 12 at 9 p.m. in People Connection's Auditorium. (Check out your competition at the end of this feature!)

"The Ref" and his staff are busy planning other exciting events, including message board "Olympics," sports trivia marathons, a daily sports trivia question, and much more. Win Q-Link t-shirts, visors, or even sports equipment, selected especially for you by "The Ref" himself! Winners will be announced every week, and a grand prize will be awarded at the Decathlon's end. Be sure to check the special anniversary area in The Grandstand in Just for Fun's Sports Center for schedules and details.



Relax and Talk Sports

Have fun, but don't overdo it! Take a breather between events in The Grandstand's exclusive Stadium Club. Sit back, relax, and join the ongoing conversation among fans after your own heart. And visit the Bleachers, The Grandstand's conference room, at 9 and 11 every night to check out the conversation topic of the evening, including Hockey Talk, Baseball Talk, and major sports news of the day. Who knows — you might be the online expert! Check the Update's Calendar of Events for conference topics and Grandstand special events.

Feeling competitive? Visit the Sports Trivia room in People Connection every Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday night at 9 p.m. Your speed and knowledge could be rewarded with Plus hours.

Any thoughts on the All-Star games, Wimbledon finals, NFL summer training, who's been hired and who's been fired on your favorite teams? Make sure your views are heard. Post your opinions and predictions on The Grandstand's message boards.

Information, Reviews, Hot Tips

Visit the Sports Product Info Center for honest reviews of sports products and software before you buy. Expert software consultants Arnie Katz and Bill Kunkel are happy to answer your queries and provide you with the latest information. Anything missing? Post your own review, and get an informative exchange going with fellow consumers.

And don't forget to download the latest issue of Sportsline, The Grandstand's monthly magazine. Take advantage of the electronic publishing medium, which allows Managing Editor "The Ref" and his staff to bring you fresh and current stories you won't find anywhere else. You might even want to ask "The Ref" about penning a guest column yourself!

Get in on the Action

Not content with being an armchair athlete? Join the action yourself by participating in one of The Grandstand's simulated sports leagues. Have an entrepreneurial spirit? Join The Grandstand's Online Baseball Cards area and buy, sell, and trade baseball cards and memorabilia with enthusiasts from across the country. Grandstand's staff will keep you up-to-date on the latest shows, prices and happenings. While you're in the Online Baseball Cards area, browse through the latest edition of Online Baseball Cards Magazine — it's chock full of card news, price polls, and show information.

And if these "highbrow" activities leave you cold, throw yourself into professional wrestling as a member of the Online Wrestling Association, located in the Sports Boards and Libraries

Wrestling area. You won't want to miss anything — be sure to check The Scorecard and the second anniversary area daily in the Sport Center's The Grandstand!

Coming Up.....Summer Olympics Information Center

Keep an eye peeled for the Summer Olympics Information Center, appearing this September in The Grandstand. Easy access to complete network television schedules, daily updates on events, medal awards, and insightful commentary will make the Summer Olympics Information Center an indispensable resource for fully enjoying this year's games.

Grandstand Roster

Meet the staff of The Grandstand, located in Just for Fun's Sports Center. The Grandstand's host, "The Ref," and his crew dare you to challenge them in The Second Anniversary Decathlon's most grueling event, "Stump the Grandstand," on August 12 at 9 p.m. in People Connection's Auditorium. Be sure to check the special anniversary area in The Grandstand for other anniversary events and details.

Explore Women's Issues in Women Today

Professional feminist Lee Chiaramonte of the Ms. Foundation for Education and Communication Inc. offers her perspective on '80s lifestyles in Q-Link's new Women Today. You'll find this section in two places: the Learning Center and the Family Center in Just For Fun.

Lee offers timely articles each month about such topics as working mothers, careers, women's health, and assertiveness. Lee's article for July, "New Declaration for the Independent Woman," features Lee's unique perspective on our nation's July 4 celebration.

Post your comments about the article on the message board accompanying the article and begin a lively debate! The message board offers Q-Linkers of both genders an opportunity to establish a meaningful dialogue as they face the challenge — and even confusion — of changing sex roles and societal expectations.

Join the Contest on Independence

If the Declaration of Independence were signed today by 13 females, who would they be? Lee is looking for your answers and reasons for selecting these women in her July 4 Independence Essay Contest. You or your kids could win a scholarship toward continuing studies. Submit your list of 13 women and your reasons for selecting them in the contest area in Women Today.

"Two-thirds of all new businesses in the U.S. are started by women."

Take Lee's monthly survey on today's headlines and issues. Lee wants to know your views on women and independence in her July survey. She'll use the results of this survey, and following surveys and comments from the articles, to fulfill your needs for information, open up discussions, and channel debate.

Pooled Resources

In addition to lively debate and a unique perspective, Lee offers you access to an extensive pool of resources. "Any information I garner I will provide to members online," Lee says. Lee has access to the National Organization of Women's media arm which searches national newspapers for stories on women-related issues.

The Ms. Foundation for Education and Communication Inc. houses a library full of information. It is also a think tank for some of the most influential minds in women's issues such as Gloria Steinem, an active feminist who founded Ms. Magazine, one of the leading publications to focus on women and their concerns.

About the Host

Lee lectures to universities, women's organizations, and political groups on Affirmative Action, domestic violence and sexual harassment, women and confidence, team excellence, assertiveness training, and the corporate women's community.

She was Walter Cronkite's chief assistant and researcher at CBS News in New York City. There she founded the CBS Sexual Harassment Task Force and is Chair Emeritus of the CBS Women's Advisory Council, one of the oldest corporate women's advocacy groups in America.

Lee is Gloria Steinem's manager, and works with Gloria and others at the Ms. Foundation for Education and Communication Inc. to bring a stronger voice to women's issues and concerns.

Studying the Issues

Lee's approach to studying women is not to look at one facet of their lives for the answers. For example, a late 70s survey supervised by Lee for the CBS Women's Advisory Council on sexual harassment in the workplace revealed that women who had difficulty saying no (to sexual advances) on the job also had difficulty saying no (to a spouse) at home.

The result of surveys such as the Women's Council and other research led Lee to fine tune her assertiveness training course for women. Lee plans to continue her search for information and answers through the online environment. Join Lee in exploring future topics in Women Today. She'll be looking at such issues as:

Topic: Women in the Workplace

Lee says that many women are turning away from the corporate atmosphere and into their own businesses. The main reason for this trend is that women want more control over their time. "Two-thirds of all new businessses in the U.S. are started by women," Lee says.

While we're seeing more and more women entering male-dominated jobs, Lee has observed that more men are entering traditionally women's jobs. "There are more male nurses today, and male secondary and elementary school teachers."

"The whole format of electronic information may show us something about how women learn."

Topic: Women and Learning

Women come to know things differently than men, Lee notes. What do those differences mean in terms of how women and men approach learning, perceiving their world, and communicating to each other? Women aren't so objective as men, and account for who the person is — in a more personal and emotional way.

Lee is intrigued by how women use Q-Link to learn: "The whole format of electronic information may show us something about how women learn."

Topic: The Future

What lies ahead for men and women? "The last 30-40 years have been politically and economically tumultuous. The family structure has changed, women's roles have changed. How will we balance relationships, careers, family, and mobility in the months and years ahead?"

Learn more about this exciting new area and the information it offers men and women, Monday, July 11, at 10:30 p.m. in People Connection's Auditorium. Lee will also host once a month open dialogue sessions in the Women's Issues room in People Connection. Look in the Special Events and Contests area in People Connection for dates and times.

NEWS AND INFORMATION

You Could Be An Online Delegate In Mock Democratic Convention

Get the jump on the real Democratic Convention, in Atlanta from July 18-21. Join Q-Link political enthusiasts on July 17 at 7 p.m. in our own mock Democratic Convention! Catch convention fever — you could win political game software and other prizes!

Political enthusiasts from Just For Fun and CitiLink are jumping on the bandwagon to host Q-Link's version of the convention process. People Connection's Auditorium will be transformed into the convention floor, where you can rally with fellow Q-Linkers to support your favorite candidate.

Gather in People Connection's Auditorium at 7 p.m. for introductions and opening remarks. Find out how to join the caucus that represents your region of the country — the Northeast, Mid-Atlantic, Southeast, South, Southwest, Midwest, North, and West — in special rooms in People Connection.

People Connection's "caucus rooms" are where the real action begins. The rooms will be named according to their regions, and the caucus room hosts will lead each group in lively debate on the topics that affect our nation. Discuss the issues and candidates, then cast your vote — it's your opportunity to be a part of the Democratic process!

After the caucusing, meet back in the Auditorium where the votes will be tallied. The candidate with the most delegates wins the nomination. Then, vote for the vice-presidential candidate of your choice. Continued issue debate and on-the-spot polling will result in the mock convention's announcement of their choices for the Democratic ticket and party platform.

Be part of the convention excitement. You could win politically-themed software games like Mindscape's "Balance of Power" and Strategic Simulation's "President Elect!" Or you could walk away with door prizes of Plus hours, Q-Link t-shirts, keychains, and RabbitJack's Casino disks that will be awarded throughout the evening.

If you can't wait until July 17 to add your two-cents worth to the political hubbub — don't! Read NewsGrid election stories in the Election '88 area of News and Information. Check out the results of Q-Link straw polls and take part in the latest political straw poll located there. Add your comments to the political Debate Boards in News and Information's Express Yourself. Share your political insights with others, discuss political parties and voter apathy, or just blow off steam!

CP/M Support Group Comes to CIN

Computing experts and novices alike will find software support and solutions in the CP/M Computing Support Group in the Commodore Information Network.

CP/M, one of the oldest operating systems, was created by Digital Research, Inc. in 1974. By 1980, it was an industry standard – the MS-DOS of the late 1970s. It allowed companies to develop software for a variety of computers and applications, because the system conformed to the needs of many different machines.

As a result, CP/M vastly increased the amount of software available at the time, and now boasts one of the largest software libraries of any operating system. Because of the current prominence of MS-DOS, bargain hunters can find CP/M software for a fraction of its original cost.

News, Help, and Downloadable Files

In the CP/M Support Group, you'll find news about new products, upcoming conferences, and a message board with answers to common CP/M operating questions. You can also leave suggestions for conference topics on the support group's message board .

The CP/M Software Libraries include more than 100 downloadable files, including areas for advanced utilities, graphics, word processing, telecommunications and games. A section for miscellaneous informational files includes a list of known errors in Commodore128 utility programs, public domain software lists, printing tips, product catalogs, and reviews.

Novices shouldn't hesitate to visit the library – there's a special section of starter utility and help files to get you going with some basic CP/M programs. A helpful beginners' Starter Kit can be found in the Support Group's Software Libraries.

The CP/M SysOps hold conferences Saturdays at 8 p.m. in the CIN Conference Center, Room 1. They'll answer questions and solicit comments and advice from other CP/M users.

Finally, there's the CP/M Group Workshop. Benefit from downloadable lessons available in the Workshop Library to learn more about the operating system. If the lessons prove to be tough going, check the News and Events area in the CP/M Support Group for periodic class announcements. Useful references are recommended here to guide you on your way.

Meet the SysOps

SysOps Peter Jacobson (SysOp PJ) and Glynn Stafford (SysOp GES), offer guidance to the CP/M flock. Peter is a computer technician who specializes in programming and troubleshooting, and works for a major robotics firm specializing in industrial robots. Glynn is an information systems officer for the Air Force, and holds degrees in computer science and management information technology.

Commodore Software Showcase

Arcade and Video News Debut This Month in the Showcase

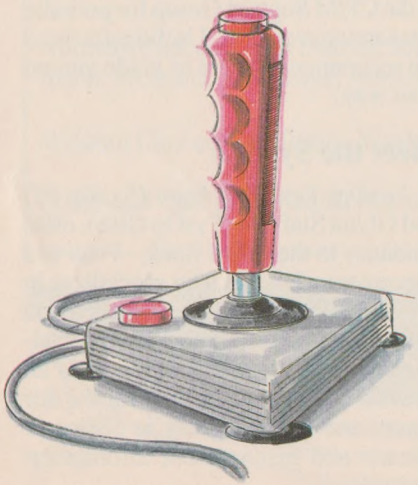
New in July to the Commodore Software Showcase is the Arcade and Video Systems area, located in the Software Buyer's Guide under New Product Information .

Find information on home entertainment game systems from companies like Atari, Sega, and Nintendo. The new service also offers news about other game systems, software, hardware, and accessories, as well as the inside scoop on the home arcade game industry.

In addition to news, Arcade and Video Systems will include a section of tips and hints to help you sharpen your game-playing skills. And don't forget to visit the Brag Board, where you can post your high scores and see how they stand up against the game-playing prowess of others.

Arcade and Video Systems comes to Q-Link courtesy of Bob Baker, who writes a monthly column about Q-Link for Commodore Magazine. Bob's been part of the Commodore world since the early days of the PET 2001 series, and his access to information from software manufacturers makes him an invaluable source of hot tips to Q-Link members.

Your feedback on Arcade and Video Systems would be greatly appreciated. If there's a game or topic area you would like to see included, share your suggestions by posting them on the general message board located in this section.



Publishers Gear Up For Third Software Trade Show!

Here's your chance to find out what's new — and what will be coming soon — to the world of Commodore software. Q-Link will host its third Software Publisher's Trade Show Sunday, July 10 at 9 p.m. in People Connection's Auditorium.

Meet designers and programmers from EPYX, Activision, Mindscape, Electronic Arts, Berkeley Softworks, Broderbund, MicroProse, and Timeworks first in the Auditorium. They'll answer your questions and tell you what new products they are highlighting.

After the introductions, each publisher will have a separate "booth" — a room named for their firm — in People Connection. There you can preview new software and get the lowdown on what's hot.

At the close of the show, all will go back to the Auditorium to find out how to get more information on the products displayed. And for the night's big finale, a lucky participant will receive a free library of 10 to 12 software programs, made up of best-selling products from each of the participating publishers!

During the show, publishers will also give away their new and top-selling software as door prizes. Scan the message boards in each publisher's area in the Software Support Center in CSS for game strategies and playing tips, or check out the new programs and leave a critique on the Trade Show message board in CSS after the show.

To familiarize yourself with information on participating publishers, new products, and how to order software, you can get advanced information from Trade Show Headquarters located in the Commodore Software Showcase.

Mindscape Joins Other Top Software Publishers In The Software Support Center

Mindscape, the publisher of such popular game software as "Paperboy" and "Bad Street Brawler," has joined the growing list of Commodore publishers who support their products in Commodore Software Showcase's Software Support Center.

Be the first to find out about new Mindscape products. Browse through their Online Catalog to check out the variety of entertainment, desktop publishing, productivity, and educational software the company has to offer.

Leave comments and questions for Mindscape technical representatives on the company's Customer Service Message Board, and exchange game hints and strategies with other Q-Link members and Mindscape staff on the Game Hints Board.

"Paperboy" and "Bad Street Brawler" are just two of Mindscape's game software hits. In "Paperboy," you ride through the streets of your suburban community, throwing newspapers on your customers' doorsteps (and through the windows of non-subscribers!), while avoiding the ever present hazards of cars, lawnmowers, and workmen. "Bad Street Brawler" is an action game that gives you the chance to clean up the mean streets of the inner city.

Mindscape joins Broderbund, Berkeley Softworks, Abacus, Activision, DataSoft, Electronic Arts, EPYX, Firebird Licensees, MicroProse, and Timeworks in the Software Support Center of the Commodore Software Showcase. Each publisher maintains its own customer support area to aid Q-Link members with their software needs.

People Connection®

YOUR P.C. COMPANION

by EileenC

Set sail with us on an exciting cruise aboard the "SSQuantum" throughout the month of July! Beginning Wednesday, July 6, the "SSQuantum" will be docked in Just For Fun's QSociety. Climb aboard for lots of fun, including jaunts to exotic locales, fabulous parties, a little shipboard romance and much more!

We'll wind down our whirlwind cruise with two special parties, at 10 p.m. and 12:30 a.m. on Friday, July 29 in special People Connection rooms!

Or, join us for a gala that Shakespeare himself would have enjoyed — our "Midsummer Night's Dream Party," 10 p.m. on Saturday, July 16 in more People Connection rooms.

QKids can celebrate summer at our "Cartoon Capers Party," featuring lots of fun and prizes, at 3 p.m. on Saturday, July 2, also in People Connection.

And QTeens won't want to miss our "Rock 'n Roll Party" at 10 p.m. on Saturday, July 30. We'll feature Rock Trivia and a Rock Star Look-Alike Contest. Come dressed as your favorite rock 'n roller!

For complete information about our July Parties, check online in the Special Events area of P.C. Link, located in Just For Fun's QSociety.

More July Highlights:

P.C. Honors 'Linkers With Top Brass Awards! Throughout July, vote for your favorite Q-Linkers as P.C. hosts the first annual "Top Brass Awards." To participate, go to P.C. Link in Just For Fun's QSociety and cast your vote for the "Zaniest 'Linker," "Most Flirtatious 'Linker," "Cutest 'Linker," "Most Unpredictable 'Linker" and more! Then, join us for the announcement of the "Top Brass" winners at 8 p.m. on Sunday, July 24 in the Auditorium. Each winner will receive a special certificate and a prize of free Plus hours!

Q-Link Salutes The Grand Old Flag. We're putting on our red, white, and blue in honor of July 4! So, come celebrate with us at two Fourth of July Parades and two Parties. We'll kick off the festivities at 10 p.m. on Sunday, July 3 at an "Early Parade and Party" in special P.C. rooms. Then, the star-spangled fun continues at our "Late Night Parade and Party" at midnight in more P.C. rooms. You're also invited to our exclusive "Fireworks Display" at 9 p.m. on Monday, July 4 in the Auditorium. We'll be giving away lots of prizes at all of the events.

Meet Dr. Timothy Leary. Learn all about Dr. Leary's latest software releases, "Mind Mirror" and "What Does Woman Want?" when the psychedelic professor of the '60s returns to the Auditorium at 10:30 p.m. on Wednesday, July 13!

Computer & Software Forums. Meet top software publishers during our July Commodore Software Showcase Trade Show, 9 p.m. on Sunday, July 10 in the Auditorium! Learn about the latest Commodore software and win prizes—including "Wasteland," "Impossible Mission II" and "Where in the U.S.A. is Carmen Sandiego?" Representatives from Electronic Arts, Broderbund, Berkeley Softworks, Activision and more will be on hand to tell you about their new releases.

Get the scoop on Commodore computing at the weekly Forums hosted by CBM engineers and marketing representatives throughout July. For Forum dates and times, consult your Update Calendar.

Do you know something that our SysOps don't? Try your luck at stumping the SysOps of the Commodore Information Network at 9 p.m. on Friday, July 8 in the Auditorium. If you ask our SysOps a Commodore computer-related question that they can't answer, you could win a prize of Free Plus hours!

Join Berkeley Softworks representative Rob Siegel to learn about GEOS, the menu and icon-based operating system for the Commodore 64, at 10 p.m. on Thursday, July 14 in the Auditorium. You could win a free BSW software package just for being in the audience.

Show Off At New Talent Night. Q-Link is offering you the chance to "shine" at our exciting "New Talent Night," hosted by "Mr ShowBiz" at 10:30 p.m., Friday, July 1 in the Auditorium. You might be invited onto the Auditorium's stage to perform. The top three winners of "New Talent Night" will receive Plus hour prizes!

A New Look Debuts at the Crossroads Cafe

The Crossroads Cafe, Q-Link's bistro for social and literary discourse, has a hot new design to go with the sweltering days of mid-summer! The Cafe, located in Just for Fun's Entertainment Center, is now easier to use and designed to encourage the kind of thoughtful interaction that's become the hallmark of the Crossroads Cafe.

First stop is the Cafe's Marquee area, where you can get a description of upcoming events and contest information. From there, move to the Cafe Bulletin, where you can post and receive messages from other members of Cafe society and find out about the different clubs and concerns that call the Cafe home.

Then, it's off in search of enlightenment. You might choose to check out a scheduled poetry meeting or writers' forum in the Backroom. If that sounds a bit stuffy for a hot summer night, join the informal chitchat that starts at 7 p.m. every weeknight in Espresso or join the heated political and social debates that rage on the QCrossfire board there.

Want some time for reflection? The Readers' Retreat serves the literary interests of Cafe patrons. Members can upload original works or favorites pieces of literature to the prose and poetry libraries. You can also download the same, to peruse later in the comfort of a backyard hammock.

Looking for something more specific? Try the Society for Creative Anachronisms, an electronic version of the National SCA group that meets in Espresso, or Mensa Magic, a message area for members of the national association for individuals with high I.Q.s. Or for something more profound, there's Mind Link, the Crossroads Cafe philosophy group that meets in the Backroom.

Don't let the dog days of summer get you down — there's always something cool happening at the Crossroads Cafe!

Family Center Forums

Vacation's all you've ever wanted? But you sure don't want to deal with sunburn, insect bites, or other vacation-type health worries. Share your vacation health concerns and get summer health tips at the Family Center's Health and Fitness Forum on Sunday, July 1, at 10 p.m. in People Connection's Auditorium. Your host is Alison Evans, a doctoral candidate in epidemiology at Harvard and health and fitness contributor to Grandstand Sports Club health and fitness information. Make sure your vacation is worth remembering for the right reasons!

Mental health expert Joe Carra of the University of Pittsburgh Psychology Department will lead a discussion on the topic of "Family Issues in Alcoholism" on July 5 at 9 p.m. in People Connection's Auditorium. He and his special guest, Dr. Ruth Ann Seilhammer, will answer your questions about alcoholism and its effects on the family.

New Job Bank For the Disabled

The disABILITIES Club in the Family Center offers a new support feature to members this month with the addition of the Club's Job Bank. Match your occupational background and experience with career opportunities listed here, from areas across the country! If you know of any jobs available, you can also post them on the disABILITIES Job Bank message board.

Phantasy Guild Gears up for Third Role-Play Convention

LINKCON III, a Phantasy Guild role-playing convention, is scheduled for July, with more danger and excitement than ever before. The Dungeons and Dragons Open Tournament kicks off Linkcon and begins on Saturday, July 23, at 9 p.m. in Phantasy Guild conference rooms.

Also in the Phantasy Guild this month: GM IC and his fellow cohorts offer the third episode of his epic "Villains" in the Auditorium in People Connection. Join them Saturday, July 9 at 10 p.m. Plus time awards go to the best audience participants, so don't miss out!

And Saturday, July 23, at 10 p.m., come to People Connection's Auditorium for "Ask the Guild," an opportunity for new role-playing enthusiasts to find out about upcoming Guild events and have your membership questions answered by a Guild host!

Fiction and Fantasy Club Convention

Saturday, July 30 is the date for "Fict-Con," a convention for fans of fiction, fantasy, horror, comics and science fiction. Share your interests with others at 9 p.m. in People Connection's Auditorium, and join discussions about your favorite fiction genres. Learn more about the Fiction and Fantasy Club, located in the Entertainment Center in Just For Fun.

Hunt for Trivia

Hunt for hints, solve the riddle, and win Plus hours! The Trivia Club will hide hints on message boards throughout Just for Fun. Each hint will clue you in on the riddle and lead you to another hint. When all the hints are discovered, the riddle can be solved. E-Mail the entire riddle and solution to "Stique," the Trivia Club co-host. The first person to correctly answer the riddle wins six hours of Plus time. Four hours of Plus time will be awarded to a second place winner, with two Plus hours going to third place. The Trivia Club is located in Just For Fun's Entertainment Center.

Contest begins Monday, July 11. For more information, look in the Special Events and Contests area of Just for Fun's "Tonight!" section or in the Trivia Club.

THE LEARNING CENTER

The PTIX Educational Software Library Puts Learning Resources at Your Fingertips

Now is an ideal time for parents to visit The Learning Center's Parent-Teacher Information Exchange (PTIX), and take note of "thinking game" software you could use to keep young minds active and involved during the long summer vacation.

In addition to providing a forum for discussion among parents, teachers, and students, PTIX has proven to be a valuable source of public domain and shareware educational software. All of the programs can be downloaded from the library for your personal use.

Software for Students of All Ages

When you enter the PTIX Educational Software Libraries, you'll find programs that run the gamut from preschool math to college-level vocabulary. For instance, in the math area there's "Munchmath," for children up to the third grade. Graphics, sound and animation combine to make beginning subtraction exciting and fun. "Story Writer," in the language arts section, is a word processing program for elementary-age kids. They can use it to write, edit, and print their own stories — a great way to stimulate creativity and writing skills.

For junior high school students, there's the "Brewer Math" tutorial and worksheet series. These 23 programs in the math section were created by junior high school math teacher Ricky Brewer to provide supplemental help for those who need it in specific areas like fractions, square roots and percentages.

And new to the PTIX Educational Software Library is a Special Needs section, with programs for disabled and handicapped users. Among the packages you'll find here is a word processing program for the blind, with a speech synthesizer that "reads" aloud what the user types in. Another word processing program uses extra-large characters to make them visible to the the visually impaired, and was created by Don Peterson, founder of the Computer Foundation for Handicapped Children.

Find Software That Suits Your Needs

Margaret Morabito, PTIX director, suggests that parents browse through the index and see what programs might best suit their needs. For further help or advice concerning the PTIX public domain education software, leave E-Mail for "CALCPRG," the screen name for Elizabeth Fryer, who writes the software descriptions and will direct you to programs that you need.

The list of PTIX downloadable programs can also be found in the Other Educational Programs section of Educational Software in the Learning Center. There, you'll also find the complete line of Commodore educational software! And remember, if you have created worthwhile educational programs of your own that aren't in the PTIX Educational Software Libraries, uploads are welcome, too!

Build Your Own Software Library

With Q-Link's 1988 Public Domain Software Directory

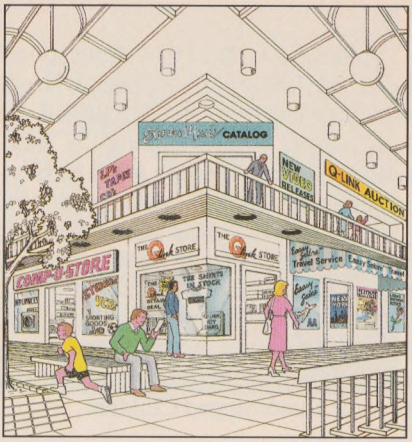
On sale now for just $11.95

You'll find over 15,000 public domain programs listed in Q-Link's latest software directory — the largest collection of Commodore - compatible programs available anywhere!

Save time and money by browsing through the libraries offline. Look up your favorite programs on entertainment, music, business, home applications, graphics, and more. Plus, get step-by-step directions for formatting disks, downloading, and uploading files into the Q-Link libraries.

Order the directory online in the Q-Link Store in The Mall, or call 1-800-782-2278.

THE MALL



Take Out A Nationwide Ad In Q-Link Classifieds

Why should you spend money on a local newspaper classified when you can clean out that attic or sell your car to members from across the U.S. and Canada using the Q-Link classifieds?

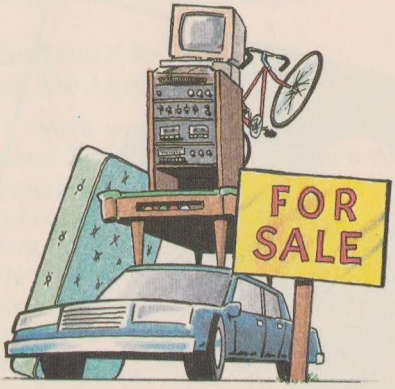
In the Classifieds in The Mall, sell, find, and trade just about anything you can imagine with other Q-Link members.

What's available in the Classifieds? You name it. Sections are devoted to Computers and Hardware/Peripherals, where you'll find people offering to trade and sell C64s, modems and printers.

Calculators, compact disc players, and keyboards are the stock in trade in the Electronics section.

The Home/General area has just about everything else, from pets, bikes, and baseball cards to waterbeds, cars, and campers. In the Personals section, you might find computer bulletin board phone numbers, club information – or a message from someone in search of you!

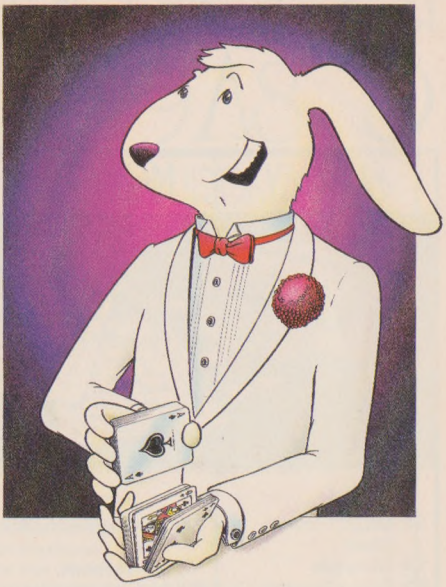
You can use the Items Wanted section to enlist the help of your fellow Q-Linkers in locating that offbeat or unusual object that you haven't been able to find any other way. Just state what you're looking for and people will respond by E-Mail.



Hundreds of new ads are posted weekly, and if you wish to place an ad, it remains online for one week. Q-Link members who are interested in your wares may contact you via E-Mail or instructions in the ad.

If your ad meets with success, you can have it removed early by sending an E-Mail message to "GinaTae." Full information is available online by choosing the Guidelines option on the Classifieds menu.

RABBIT JACK'S CASINO CORNER

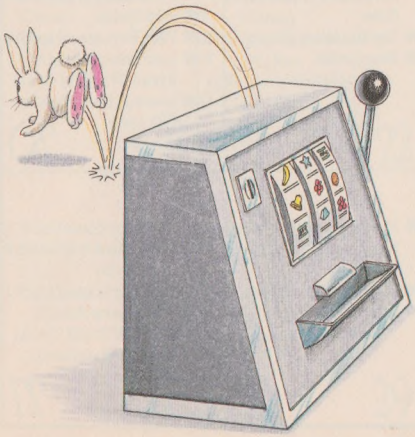


Something's Always "Hoppinin" at RabbitJack's Casino

by RabbitJack

Congratulations to "Wizz Kid," winner of a slot machine bank in our month-long April Anniversary Celebration. Wizz Kid was one of the 36 people who saw the Rabbit jump off the slot machines in my casino, and was the lucky player whose name was selected at random as the winner of a slot machine bank that "pays off" just like the real thing!

In July, we'll continue to give away prizes during nightly events, including tournaments, special games, and Casino Days and Nights. In a single evening, you can win up to four hours of Plus time in our tounaments.



Join Casino staffers in bingo, slot machine games, poker, and blackjack specials as they pay you extra Q-Chips for winning (or just for playing!).

Or, find you favorite QRJ hosts and join them for their weekly games, which feature play variations on your Casino favorites!

Now you can find out if you're a tournament winner within a half hour after the tournament's over. Look in the Winner's Circle in the Casino Club, located in the Entertainment Center in Just for Fun. You'll find nightly winners (and prizes) of tournaments and special games!

Check out the NEW Casino Calendar on the following pages for dates and times of all Casino Events!

STOCKS PLUMMET IN RECORD TRADING

Television Highlights

Tuesday:

(2) 7:30 LAWRENCE WELK IN BULGARIA

The famed band leader takes you through 60 minutes of musical merriment, all the time wondering why he is in Bulgaria

(5) 9:30 BRUCE LEE IN REVENGE OF THE MEATBALL

Epic hero Bruce Lee punches his way through paste, and reaches a pizza from 600 Neopolitan Ninjas

Wednesday:

(11) 6:30 I Love Lucy

Lucy and Ethel hatch a plot to get Lucy into Ricky's show at the club. (R)

(4) 8:30 Gilligan's Island

Gilligan and the Skipper finally wise up and figure out that Ginger and Mary Anne must be getting awfully lonely right about now, and go for ... (Continued Page 9)

Weather

Local weather: Look for clouds throughout the morning, burning off near midday. Temperatures should soar to the mid 200's by late afternoon with heavy electrical activity and thunderstorms appearing around, oh, say 4:00 PM. Is this why you're called Weather?

Natural weather. Who cares? We don't live there. We live here. Boy, that really gets the goat, eh Hanes? Some people really think shit will be here to be around here to have our ass washed.

EARTH TO BEGIN SPINNING IN OPPOSITE DIRECTION

A shocked consortium of scientists confirmed the world's worst suspicions Tuesday, when they announced that the Earth was indeed slowing down. They expect the planet to grind to a halt early Thursday, reversing its direction and getting back up to speed by Monday night.

Although the research was startling, the scientists urged people not to panic.

"I suppose I'd lock all the breakables in your cabinets," offers Dr. Lee Llevano, "but outside of that, I'd just tell people to hold on and enjoy the ride."

Apparently we're in for quite a ride. Dr. Dennis Rowland demonstrated the effect of the sudden reversal by dropping a raw egg into a MixMaster blender set on "puree."

"If we assume people have the consistency of this egg," Rowland asserted, "I think it's safe to say that the effect of this phenomenon will leave them in a state somewhat similar to finely ground beef."

Asked if there were anything the public could do to prepare for the catastrophe, Dr. Rowland thought a while and offered, "I always recommend fastening your seat belt. It just makes so much sense, don't you think?"

Analyst Staci Glovsky was less distressed with the news, asking "What's the big deal? Jeez, you guys are acting like a bunch of

MAN BITES POODLE!

BERKELEY — Dozens of citizens watched in horror today as a man, who described himself as an animal lover, actually bit a miniature teacup poodle.

Donald Anderson, of Studio City, California, dismissed the incident as a case of mistaken identity.

"Somebody asked me if I wanted a dog with mustard, and since it was close to lunchtime anyway, I just took a bite without looking."

The dog, responding to the name "Knockwurst," then gave out a yelp that bystanders recalled as sounding like "a cross between a gun shot and an air raid siren." In the process, the pinched pooch set a world record in the long jump of thirty feet, two inches.

"Sure it was my mustard, but that doesn't prove a thing!"

Anderson was booked on felony charges of dog munching, poodle endangerment and assaulting a canine with intent to commit relish. He was later released on his own recognizance. The man who offered him the poodle has also been charged with attempting to apply mustard to a mutt, a misdemeanor in Alameda County.

"It's a smear tactic," yelled Rob Siegel, the man still being sought by police. "Sure it was my mustard, but that doesn't prove a thing. Besides, they have to prove with

T MADE GE NEWS.

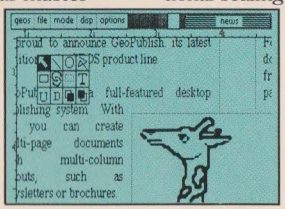
These days, the biggest story in the news is geoPublish. The page-making program for GEOS-equipped 64's and 128's that replaces lifeless layouts with page after page of powerful, punchy professionalism.

Freedom of the press.

Actually, geoPublish is very patriotic software. After all, what other application guarantees your freedom of self-expression? Well, geoPublish sure does. In fact, every piece it prints is dedicated to the preservation of your personality on paper.

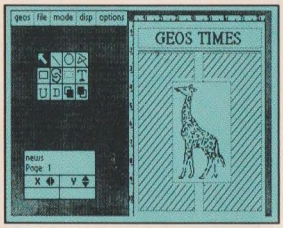
Which means that finally, your newsletters never need to look like anyone else's, ever again.

All you do is draw a bunch of columns for your master layout. They could be two, four or sixteen across the page. They could be short and squat, or long and skinny. It's your call. After that, you just "pour" your geoWrite document, text, graphics and all — into column after column. Page after page.



Everything fills up automatically until it fits firmly into your finely fashioned format.

Extras! Extras! Read all about 'em!



As every editor knows, even the best stories need punching up before they go to press. Which is why geoPublish features an array of artistic appliances designed to earn your pages a place in the history books.

You can resize text. Change fonts. Even insert or delete graphics anywhere on the page. You can lay text over graphics. Graphics over text. Or even wrap text around graphics.

And if your image doesn't fit, no problem. The proportional scaling tool can shrink or enlarge any art, be it your original or the stuff you find in Print Shop.™

Finally, those of you intent on making banner headlines should know that geoPublish doesn't wimp out when it comes to headlines. It screams them out, with genuine, newspaper-sized, 96 point megafonts.

Now, if you think that sounds terrific on paper, just wait until you see it printed out on a Laser-Writer.™

We've saved the best news for last.

And now, for the best part: you can create and save not one, but hundreds of layouts for later use.

And because it's part of the GEOS family, you can fully integrate text and graphics from all your other programs into every geoPublish piece you print.

So now that you know the latest scoop in software, why not subscribe to geoPublish yourself? Who knows? With stuff like this, you could be making front page news in no time.

To order geoPublish online go to the Commodore Software Showcase and select "GEOS Arena."
